Saving Lives with his Brother in an Unlikely Location

An ordinary trip to the mall nearly turned fatal for Francis Ohana who collapsed while out with his family. Thankfully, MDA medics Yisrael and Moshe Horovitz were also at the mall with their families and using the MDACrews application were dispatched and saved his life.

Moshe and Yisrael Horovitz were on a family outing to the Ayalon Mall when they received a notification on their MDACrews Application of a man in cardiac arrest. The brothers arrived within a minute after Francis Ohana lost consciousness and immediately began CPR including administration of electrical shocks by the AED. Francis had the opportunity to express his gratitude to the brothers, after he was resuscitated. Ohana underwent intensive treatment and has since made a full recovery.
